

To make the folded Your Rights Restored Pocket Guide:

1. Print the template onto 8 1/2" by 11"
2. Cut along the dashed line
3. Fold in half width wise at the dotted line
4. Fold in half at the dotted line

X

- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from prison.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from prison.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a civil action is immediately restored.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from prison.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from prison.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from prison.

YOUR RIGHTS IF YOU WERE RELEASED FROM PRISON IN NEVADA OR ELSEWHERE:

- Upon your discharge from parole, you must be given an official document restoring your above listed rights (and the date those rights are restored).
- You may file a written request with a court to restore your civil rights pursuant to this law if your official documentation of your release from parole is lost, damaged, or destroyed.
- You may file a written request with a court to restore your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a civil action is immediately restored.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a civil action is immediately restored.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from parole.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from parole.

- You may file a written request with a court to restore your civil rights pursuant to this law if your official documentation of your release from prison is lost, damaged, or destroyed.
- Upon your release from prison, you must be given an official document restoring your above listed rights (and the date those rights are restored).

Important Reminders

- After July 1, 2019 you DO NOT need a court order or proof of discharge from parole or probation to restore your civil right to vote in Nevada.
- If you are unsure whether you are eligible to have your rights restored, please visit the Secretary of State's Office website at: <https://www.nvsos.gov/sos>.

The Attorney General's Office aims to protect the civil rights of all Nevada residents. The office enforces civil rights laws that prohibit discrimination, works to strengthen civil rights laws and participates in community outreach programs. The office also investigates complaints of patterns and practices of discrimination in housing, public accommodations, employment and financial matters.

The Attorney General encourages individuals to contact the office to report or file a complaint at http://ag.nv.gov/Complaints/File_Complaint/ or calling the office at 775-684-1100.

- Your right to serve as a juror in a civil action is immediately restored.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is immediately restored.
- Upon your discharge from probation, you must be given an official document restoring your above listed rights (and the date those rights are restored).
- You may file a written request with a court to restore your civil rights pursuant to this law if your official documentation of your release from probation is lost, damaged, or destroyed.
- You need not disclose the conviction to an employer or prospective employer UNLESS it is required by a statute under NRS 179.245.
- You may apply to the court for the sealing of records relating to the conviction if you meet the requirements of discharge from probation.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from probation.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from probation.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a civil action is immediately restored.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from probation.
- Your right to serve as a juror in a criminal action is restored after six (6) years following the date of your release from probation.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your release from probation.

YOUR RIGHTS RESTORED

In 2019, Nevada lawmakers passed Assembly Bill 431, a new law that gives back the rights to Nevadans who were convicted of a crime but are not currently incarcerated effective July 1, 2019. The Office of the Attorney General started an initiative to communicate, demonstrate, and provide information to guide formerly incarcerated persons in the process of restoring their civil rights, as granted by the Nevada Legislature.

THE RIGHT TO VOTE

IF YOU ARE NOT CURRENTLY INCARCERATED, YOUR RIGHT TO VOTE IS IMMEDIATELY RESTORED.**

YOUR RIGHTS IF YOU WERE DISCHARGED FROM PROBATION IN NEVADA OR ELSEWHERE:

- You are free from the terms and conditions of probation.
- Your right to hold public office is restored after four (4) years following the date of your discharge from probation.

